In a week where the world does seem ever more challenging, our students have as ever risen to the challenges. A group of Year 11 students have come forward to ask that as a school we support the collection and donations of equipment and food to be sent out to the people of Ukraine. We have written to all parents this week to explain the offer and the Year 11 students have organised information for the students in school. We will collect these items continuously and deliver these to a haulier local to us weekly. Although it is a small gesture I am very proud of our students stepping up to help these people in their hour of need.

Last week saw us celebrate World Book Day, it was one of the first whole school events in a long while in school and it was fantastic to see so many students get involved in the activities bringing some much needed joy in these difficult times. Nearly 50 students took part in the World Book Day Quiz, we had around 40 amazing entries for our Harry Potter themed vegetable competition (I hope you managed to see some of these entries on our Twitter account) and finally an incredibly well supported book swap took place at break time, my thanks to Mrs Johnson in the Library for all of her efforts in organising these events. Please do have a look at the school website for further information on the importance of reading and some suggestions to engage young people in this.

With warmest wishes

Finally, brothers and sisters, rejoice! Strive for full restoration, encourage one another, be of one mind, live in peace. And the God of love and peace will be with you
