

Monday 20th June 2022

Last week finished with some incredibly warm weather which I am sure was not welcomed by everyone, particularly the Yr.11 students sitting their Spanish GCSE.

This week sees the very welcome return of a whole school sports day, the weather looks set fair for the day and I am sure it will be a fantastic day for everyone. Parents are very welcome to attend as set out in the letter last week.

We also have our leavers Prom this week, this will be a fantastic end to our students' time with us at Debenham and I am sure a great night will be had by all. This year the Prom falls on the last day of examinations so it really will be a send off to the GCSE period! Our students have coped admirably with their examinations over the past 6 weeks and although some are now getting exam fatigue they maintain a willingness to come into school to revise and prepare and I look forward to seeing some fantastic and well deserved results in the Summer.

Best Wishes
