Last week saw a number of students out of school on trips. The History department took over 50 students to Ypres and the World War One battlefields. An incredibly long day but an incredible opportunity for our students to visit such an important site. The Duke of Edinburgh students undertook their Bronze practice expedition in good weather over the weekend and all students returned tired but successful.

This week we will hold our own Jubilee Celebration by holding a picnic on the field on Friday afternoon. It is important that we commemorate this historical day but also is a fantastic opportunity for us to come together as a School community.

GCSE examinations continue apace and our students are rising to the challenge commendably, as ever there are some nerves but students are coping well with these and showing what they are undoubtedly capable of. There are still a large number of revision sessions in school both this side of half term and beyond and large numbers of Year 11 students will be in school over the half term break with their teachers to do the last pieces of preparation.

I wish all of our students a relaxing half term break.
