

Tuesday 20th September 2022

As the Country returns to normality after the events of the past few weeks I am pleased to say that a number of extra-curricular trips and visits have happened this week. As I have said many times before the importance of learning beyond the classroom can never be underestimated. The trips give opportunities to our students to experience and enjoy the wider world and to see examples of excellence which is so important to young people to allow them to see and experience the very best that the world has to offer.

This week our Year 11 students went to London to visit the Tate Modern and our Year 7 students attended Colchester Zoo as part of the learning about adaptations.

This week also sees the return of Pathways Evening for our Year 11 students. The evening starts at 7pm and representatives from a large array of post 16 providers will be in attendance to talk to students and parents about their courses. We will speak to all parents and students together first to pass on more general information as well as talk about the remainder of time at school for our Year 11 students and how parents can best support their learning.

With warmest wishes

Simon Martin

Know also that wisdom is sweet to your soul; if you find it, there is a future hope for you, and your hope will not be cut off.

Proverbs 24:14

A generous person will prosper; whoever refreshes others will be refreshed.
