

Monday 21st November 2022

It was lovely last week to be able to welcome back our students who left us last year for the Commemorative Assembly. It is always so good to hear how our students are doing and how they are enjoying the next stage of their lives. We were very grateful that Mr Rick Sheepshanks, the founder of Stokes Sauces, was able to join us and share some words with the students and families.

Friday saw the culmination of our Charities week where we raised money for Help The Heroes, The British Legion and Children in Need, the counting is still taking place but we look to have raised nearly £1000 through activities in school, my thanks to all of the students involved in the organising and to everyone who gave so generously.

This week our Year 11 students start their Mock Examinations, always a challenging time for students but an important step for them to get used to the set up in the Summer as well as find out where they will need to focus their learning and revision ready for their GCSE's next year. As ever our students rise to the challenge and their teachers will continue to provide the support, guidance and quality teaching to ensure all of our students fulfil their potential.

Simon Martin

“they who wait for the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles; they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.”

Isaiah 40:31